CABLE TV; THE WHAT, WHY, AND WHEN FOR PORTERVILLE

Tribune Special

Cable television, as now being considered by the city council for the city of Porterville, is a rather simple item from the standpoint of the customer.

Those persons who want it merely sign up for the service, pay an installation fee and a monthly service charge — just as with installation and use of a telephone— then enjoy a brilliant television picture, both black and white and in color, from possibly nine separate channels.

Engineering, financing and designing of a system, just as in the case of the telephone, is another, more complicated story, and the working agreement between a cable TV company and a city, whether by franchise or business license, can also have its complications.

But from the customer standpoint — there's nothing to it. If you want cable TV, you buy it. If you don't want it, you don't buy it.

This is the general opinion formed by Roy Pederson, Porterville city manager, and Bill Rodgers, mayor, following an inspection of cable TV at El Cajon, near San Diego, in southern California.

One point should be clearly understood. Cable TV is not pay TV.

A customer does pay for cable TV. but the system puts into a television set only what is being broadcast by the television stations carried in the cable.

Pay TV, as turned down by California voters last November, is a system in which a special charge is made to view a special program that is aired only for pay TV customers.

Essentially, cable TV is a community antenna system. Viewers see the same thing with cable TV they would see with their own antenna if their own antenna was capable of picking up the broadcast signal.

Selling point for cable TV is that it puts an excellent picture on the TV screen; it brings this picture into areas where ordinary reception is poor, or non-existant; and it broadens the range of the set in an area such as Porterville.

It is likely that if cable TV comes to Porterville, the cable will carry the three Bakersfield channels, possibly four or five channels out of Los Angeles, and an FM radio station.

And with educational television now a center of interest as efforts are being made to raise money for a station of this type in Fresno, an important factor in relation to cable TV is that it

HARLEM STARS PLAY FEB. 6

PORTERVILLE, Jan. 28 — The famous Harlem Stars will meet Hubert Craig's Porterville All Stars in a game billed as basketball the evening of February 6 in the Porterville high school gym. Kelton Dotson, former Porterville college star, will head up the home team; the greatest of all former Porterville athletes, Carl Elder, will not play.

LOW INTEREST RATE ON BONDS

PORTERVILLE, Jan. 28—Bank of America, Tuesday, bid an interest rate of 2.741 per cent on $3,850,000 worth of Porterville High School and College district bonds for construction of a second high school campus. Interest on the 15-year bonds had been estimated at 3.25 per cent in financial planning, which means the district has a favorable difference of $167,679 as a result of the lower than expected bid.

CABLE TV, as it is in El Cajon and as it might some day be in Porterville, is shown in above photos: 1. TV set with feeder line and transformer. 2. Basic parts - two transportation cables at right, and feeder line, with tapoff on one end that connects distribution and feeder lines, and transformer that is connected on back of TV set. 3. Feeder line into house from distribution line. 4. Feeder line enters house. 5. Distribution line going underground for subdivision with no overhead wires. 6. Antennas to receive direct TV station signal. 7. Channel commander control units. 8. and 9. Service man installing feeder line. 10. Main line amplifier. 11. In line amplifier (box on second wire near pole.) 12. Some of the vehicles used in cable TV installation and service. Now, read the accompanying story, then take another look at the pictures, and you may have a better idea of just what CATV looks like. And in the next few weeks, you may hear a great deal about it as it relates to the Porterville community.

SHAKESPEARE'S COMEDY, "The Taming of the Shrew," will be presented tomorrow, Friday, evening in the Porterville Memorial auditorium under the direction of James R. McCloskey, with an award-winning cast from the Theater Arts department of Los Angeles City college. In above photo are R. D. Miller as Lucentio; Mark Schell as Hortensio, and Gina Komurka as Bianca. Curtain time is 8 p.m.; tickets are on sale at Claubes Pharmacy, and will be on sale at the door, for $2.00, adults, and 75 cents, students. The show is being staged as a benefit for the Porterville Barn theater and for a number of clubs in Tulare county. The Theater Arts department of L.A. City College, after 36 years of activity, has a national reputation as one of the finest schools of drama, and its graduates include some of the "big names" of motion picture and television.

JIM HEUSDENS, third from left, was honored as the Porterville Junior chamber of commerce's Young Man of the Year at a Boss' night banquet Saturday in the Paul Bunyan, and Dr. Richard Spencer, left, was honored as Boss of the year. Heusdens is a sergeant on the Porterville police force and has been active in youth work, school programs and community work; Dr. Spencer, optometrist, was selected because of his dedicated community work. Second from left is Loron Hodge, president of the junior chamber; at right is John R. Longley, chairman of the Tulare county board of supervisors, who was the principal speaker at the banquet.

ALL DOVES ARE NOT BIRDS; ONE IS A TOP-NOTCH WRESTLER

Close your eyes and say DOVE. What do you see? A flight of soft grey birds winging out of an orange grove just before sunset. The symbol of peace, the dove bearing the olive branch? Not me, I see a muscular young man dressed in the orange and green wrestling tights of Porterville High school. Most likely the Dove that I see will be gently bending an opponent into submission on the varsity mat at the PUHS gym.

Gary Dove is a pupil at PUHS, he is a B+ student, and he is a wrestler. Note the spelling of the word, w r e s t l e r, not r a s s l e r. Rasslers are those fellows you see on television who spend a good deal of the time stomping on their opponent's face or kicking him in the jaw, or some such nonsense. Afterwards they interview the winner and he usually makes some statement to the effect that he could whip any two Japanese or Mexicans in Frseno with one hand tied behind him.

Gary Dove is the senior captain of the fine Panther wrestling team. Last year, wrestling at 127 pounds, Gary was the Central Yosemite League champion. This is his fourth year of varsity wrestling and until last week Gary was undefeated in 12 matches.

The Panther team competed in the San Joaquin i n v i t a t i o n a l wrestling tournament Saturday in Fresno. To win in tournament competition an individual has to take five consecutive matches during the day's matches. The matches must be at least an hour apart. but any way you look at it it is going to be a long , long day. Gary pinned his first three opponents and came into his fourth match with every chance of taking home the 133 pound title. In the first round of the match his left elbow was strained and the rugged Panther wrestled one-armed for the remainder of the match, losing 4-2. The boy who won the match eventually took the championship at that weight.

Gary was the most valuable wrestler on last year's fine squad; he holds the school record for the most wins in a varsity career with 35 victories, which is well ahead of former Dave Flores, who formerly held the title with 23 wins.

What does Coach Darrell Williams think of his prize Panther? "Gary is always in top condition. He has worked with weights and he is always much stronger than his opponent. He has great balance and he has always been able to take advantage of his opponent's mistakes, and he is smart."

The PUHS grunt and groaners will be on the mats Friday night at 7:30 in the PUHS gym as they take on the very tough Mt. Whitney Pioneers. It is an outstanding team which stands a good chance of carting off the CYL title this year. In addition to Dove, Coach Williams has outstanding wrestlers in Mike Avila, a 190 pounder, and Tom Cemo, a 150 pounder, and Richard Ellis, a rugged 119 pounder.

ROCKFORD 4-H DONATES TO AMBULANCE FUND

ROCKFORD, Jan. 28 — At the recent meeting held by the Rockford 4-H Club, members made a $25.00 donation for the Pixley ambulance. Don Wilson, a volunteer driver for the ambulance service, gave a demonstration of the duties that he must perform, also showing the members first-aid tips in case of an accident. Many members were used for the demonstrations. The Pixley ambulance service is the only such service covering Southern Tulare county.

Linda Mills, communty service chairman made the presentation.

Jamie Lunstad introduced O. K. Wright of the Kiwanis club, the sponsor of the Rockford 4-H club, who in turn presented the club with a plaque for their trophy case, for winning the traveling Kiwanis trophy at the Porterville Fair in 1964.

Mrs. Walter Buchak presented the president of the club, Carol Briano, with a 4-H club jacket for selling the most tickets for the annual Chuck Wagon breakfast last October.

Karon Jetton, Carolyn Smith, Carrie Lunstad, Carol Ream and Laura Geller gave a report on their sewing projects, while Carol Briano, Jamie, Jakie and Carrie Lunstad reported on their dairy projects.

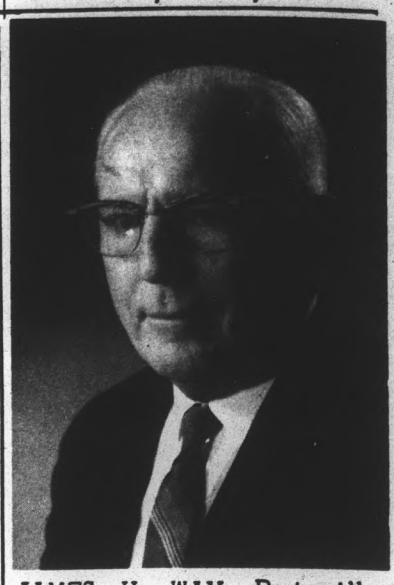

Danny Buchak and Sandra Valine, co-chairmen for a snow party reported plans for a day to be spent at Lodge Pole. Assisting with this committee are Jackie Billiou, Govanna Briano, Rodney Valine, Janice Buchak, Jim Billiou and Jim Smith.

Plans for a Valentine party will be made with Jakie Lunstad and Maryln Billiou as co-chairmen: they will be assisted by Randy Jones, Karen and Carol Ream, Jim Smith and Annette Hochuli.

Carol Briano, president, appointed Danny Buchak as sergeant-at-arms for the club year.

Mrs. Clarence Valine, community leader, announced that the Rockford 4-H band will present a program at a Rockford PTA meeting along with a history of the club, on February 9, she also urged all members to prepare their demonstrations for the County field day to be held at the Exeter High school on February 27.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served.

JAMES H. WAY, Porterville realtor, who was installed, January 12, as Noble Grand of Porterville Lodge 359, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, for the 1965 term. In a joint ceremony with Golden Rod Rebekah Lodge 200, District Deputy Grand Master Otto Luhdorff and District Deputy President Lucille Glick, with their staffs, served as installing officers. Other elective Odd Fellow officers are: Maynard Weaver, vice grand; V. W. Hollandsworth, secretary; and J. P. Walker, treasurer. Serving as appointive officers are James Flemming, Harold Austin, Jack Martin, Frank Bailey, Victor Siward, and George Sears.

spray with TREFLAN now for all season weed control

Everybody is talking about Treflan these days—about how Treflan gives all-season weed protection to cotton and many other row crops.

Treflan is applied right now, then disced or mulched into the soil. That's all there is to it. While your weed-free crop is growing, you'll save hand hoeing costs, will reduce cultivations and soil compaction and will get cleaner cotton next fall.

Best of all, you're likely to get a bigger crop because the plants aren't fighting weeds for vital soil nutrients.

Treflan may be scarce in '65. Better see us today for help in working Treflan into your 1965 row crop farming program.

Our Town—

By RUTH LOYD

I was going to tell you about going to Washington to the inauguration, but I can't. I didn't go. Somehow there was a slip up in the administration and they forgot to invite me. I understand that other famous columnists were invited, but not me. The big dances after the ceremonies sounded like fun, but I like to cuddle when I dance and I might have caught the president's cold. Things turn out for the best.

The Chamber of Commerce Banquet is going to be held at the High School cafeteria this Saturday. The upper crust of OUR TOWN will be there of course. The Job's Daughters will serve, and the Junior Women's Club is going to serve coffee. I just found out that they don't give free tickets to the recipients of OUR highest honors. So I guess I won't be Woman of the Year.

The Garden Club, under the direction of Maxine Hodgson, is in charge of decorating the cafeteria. Madia Hodgson has a nice big garage so the ladies are all over there working their artistic heads off. Virgil Hodgson is looking forward to cleaning up the mess so he can put his car back where it belongs. Isolia Gardner, Hattie Mittman, Marcella Gamble, Merle Spivey, Lillian Matzke, Doris Montrose, Verna Crabtree, and Lollie Wheeler are Maxine's friends who have been roped in to do the fancy work.

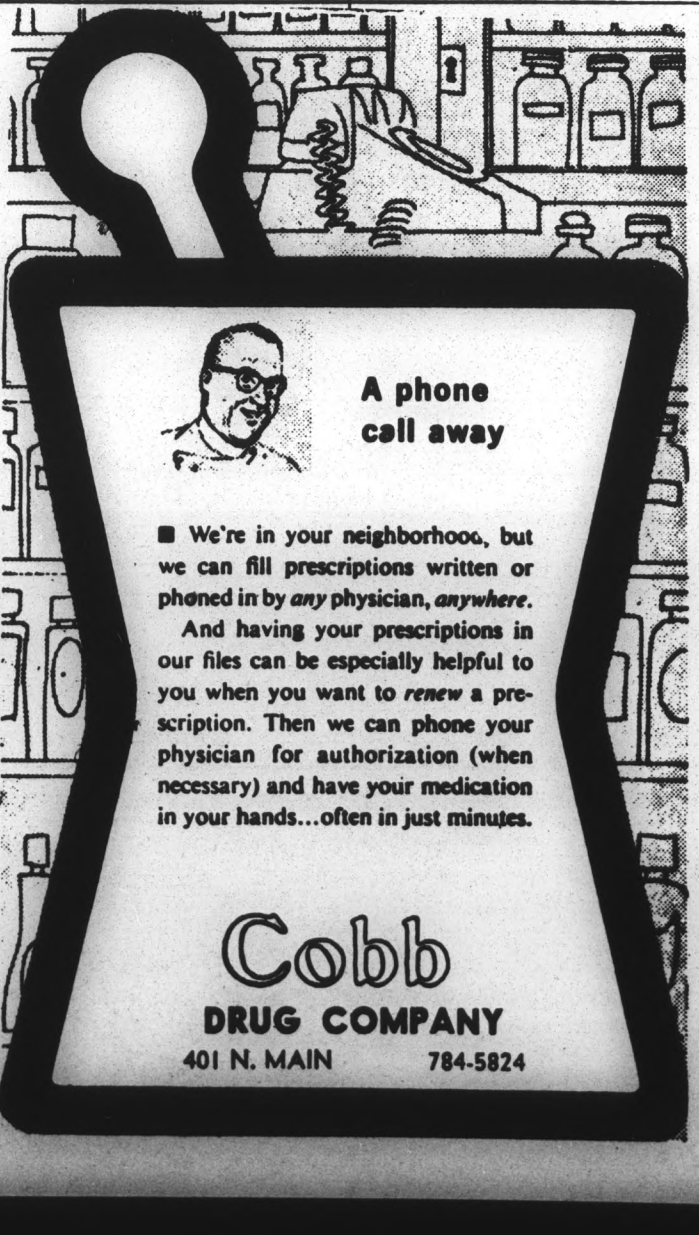

Merle Spivey is candle happy. She's the kind that takes all kinds of leftovers and mixes them with wax and presto a beautiful candle. Her candles burn too. Mine just seemed to smell up the living room. She not only is a candle expert, she makes arrangements of flowers and things. This week the Y.W.C.A. asked her to go to the Richgrove school and give a demonstration of her art to the girls after school. She likes to use material she finds near her base of operation. I keep wondering what

PORTERVILLE'S COLLEGE Pirates got a shot of power this week as additional basketball players became eligible with start of the second semester to make Coach Jim Maple's charges a tougher outfit than ever. With a loss to Hancock and a win over Merced in league play, the Pirates are now rated top contenders for league honors and a place in the state JC tournament - but, and it is a big but - the Pirates have an uphill fight since they must win them all from here on in, including a return meet with Hancock on the Porterville court February 12. Photos from left are, Billy Wong, a great ball handler and team man, as well as a scorer, who played with Tiawan in the 1960 Olympic games and who has played in the Asian game each year since; (He played at Porterville college in 1962) Dick LeJuene, an all-state selection in West Virginia as a high school player in 1962; Mike Harris, who played his high school ball in Oregon and who recently completed a hitch in the U.S. Navy; and Craig Camp, fine defensive player who has been with the club all season, but who suffered a simultaneous attack of scarlet fever and scholastic ineligibility about three weeks ago, but is now recovered from both. At far right, Doug Grant, from Nebraska, team manager and statistician. Saturday night the Pirates take on Coalinga in Porterville; they journey to Reedley February 5; play the Cal Poly Frosh in a non-league game on the coast February 6; then meet Hancock in Porterville in the big one. Our Town—— she will do with the tumble weeds I saw lined up against the fences near Richgrove. Knowing her, she most likely will come up with something fantastic. She is one of the favorite customers of Witt's Hobby shop. Artistic as all get out.

San Jose State Alum. meeting at the Bunyan was fun. We had a nice steak and little cards stuck to our chests telling which year we had graduated. I have a friend (?) in OUR TOWN who is so afraid people will find out we went to school together because she doesn't want them to know how old she is. I really think she is older than I am. Anyway, the lady across the table from me was Charlotte Myers. She had graduated from State in 1908 when they had four boys and one hundred and eighty five girls. I should say four happy boys. What a ratio. Charlotte Myers was on the school board of the Lindsay Elementary schools when I came to Lindsay years ago to get a teaching position. I will never forget that day. I wore my new red wool suit with no blouse under the jacket and I almost died of the heat. Prespiration dripped down my neck and trickled down my back. My face matched my suit and having red hair didn't improve things. I remember Mrs. Myers looking at me with real pity in her eyes. We have laughed about it since, but it was no laughing matter at the time.

To get back to the meeting. The group from San Jose State is interested in having a scholarship for some deserving student from OUR SCHOOLS so they can further their education up in San Jose. There are 21,000 students there now, and the ratio is much more balanced.

I'm glad the Operation Cleanup is over. I just leave my garbage cans in their old comfortable mess now. I know no one is sluething around our alley, and the garbage men still leave off the tops of the cans anyway.

(Ed Note: Look, Ruthy, it's not Operation Cleanup, it's Operation Pride; it's not over, it's just in a lull until early spring; if the garbage men leave the can lid off, that means wash the cans; and who knows, you might be the woman of the year.)

Happiness is living near such beautiful mountains.

CHAPEL CHIMES

By Rev. N. J. Thompson

Sundar Singh, converted Sikh who toured the USA in 1920, loved to tell how God delivered him from enemies of the Gospel. He was once condemned to death by the Lama of Tibet, and locked in a dry well to die. He landed among the bones and rotting flesh of prisoners who had perished.

Sundar cried, "O God, help me!"

On the third night, half dead from lack of food and sleep, he heard a noise overhead — a key turning and the rattling of the iron cover as it was opened. A voice called down, telling him to seize the rope that was being lowered. He grasped the rope and was hauled up. His rescuer closed the well and locked it, then disappeared in the night.

Sundar praised God for his wonderful deliverance. Next day he started preaching again. The news soon spread that the sadhu (holy man) was still alive and preaching again. Once more Sundar was brought before the judgment bar of the Lama. On being questioned, he told about his marvelous escape. The Lama angrily declared someone must have stolen the key to the prison well; but when search was made for the key it was found on his own girdle! He was speechless with terrified amazement. Then he ordered Sundar to leave the city, lest the powerful God he served bring some disaster upon the city.

The Bible tells of an angel unchaining the imprisoned Peter and leading him out of prison to the street. Acts, chapter 12. The Bible says, "The angel of the Lord encampeth round about them that fear Him, and delivered them" (Psalm 34:7).

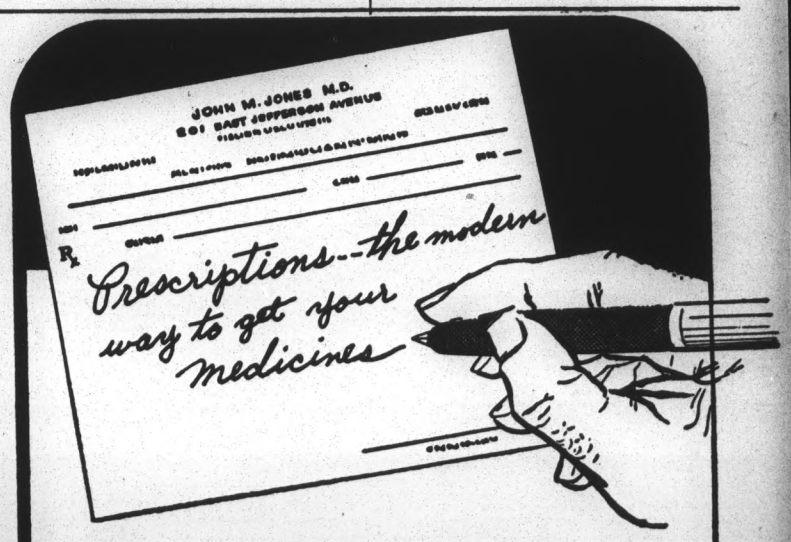

How wonderful that God, in His loving concern for His children, surrounds them with His guardian angels!

The use of prescriptions for the orderly dispensing of medicines has multiplied during the past few years. There is sound reason for this trend.

"On prescription" is the right way for you to acquire medicines. They will be exactly right for the condition being treated. Dosage and strength will be specified. Fine ingredients, such as the products of Parke, Davis & Company, and other manufacturers, will be used.

CABLE TV

would bring in the new Educational Channel 28 out of Los Angeles.

At El Cajon, Los Angeles channels are picked up directly at an installation on top of a building on Point Loma and fed into the cable from there. To serve Porterville, it is likely that a microwave system would be necessary.

Once the signal is picked up locally, by antenna or microwave, it is fed into a control center, then through trunk lines, repeater amplifiers, distribution lines, feeder lines, and house drop to a small transformer that's installed on the back of the TV set. The transformer installation can be made so that the television set can be switched back and forth between cable TV and the regular TV that is now being received, if the customer so desires.

Cables for the cable system are placed on existing poles (by agreement between the local company and the telephone or power company that owns the poles.) Installation can be made underground in subdivisions that do not allow overhead wiring.

Until detailed plans are drawn, firm price to subscribers in the Porterville area cannot be stated, but it is likely that original installation cost would run from $15 to $25, and that monthly service charge would run around $5.00 per month — more or less. We emphasize that these are not firm figures.

Status of cable television now in Porterville is this: City administrative officials have been gathering all available information on the system; council members are now thinking in terms of granting a franchise rather than a business license; first draft of a proposed ordinance regulating cable TV has been drawn and will be in near final form by the February 2 or February 16 meeting of the city council; a public hearing will be held concerning cable TV; the city council will accept bids on installation and operation of a system.

Three firms have already indicated interest in Porterville, one of which is Trans Video, the firm visited in El Cajon. It is likely that others will submit proposals following the advertising for bids.

A franchise from the city of Porterville would authorize only operation within the limits of the city, however, it is likely that if the city enters into a franchise, the selected company would be able to get franchise approval from the county of Tulare for service into the area surrounding the city.

As for the time element involved, two factors of an indeterminate nature are involved: 1. The time required for the company to get approval of a microwave facility from the Federal Communications commission, and 2. Time required for the company to complete arrangements for use of existing utility poles.

If there are no undue delays, it is possible that a local system could be in operation in from eight months to a year after granting of a franchise. The system would probably be constructed in blocks, and hookups would be possible as the system constructed; consequently some areas would have cable TV available sooner than others.

Technically, cable TV is called CATV (Community Antenna TV). As envisioned at present by the Portereville city council, a franchise would cover only CATV; the company would not be in television sales or service, or any related form of activity.

So it's all quite simple from the standpoint of the customer. But from the standpoint of the initial approach, the Porterville city council is taking it slow and easy, trying to cover all the bases before entering into any form of agreement with any company.

It appears, however, that most of the preliminary exploratory work is near completion, and that the council may start the ball rolling by the end of February.

Once agreements are reached, it can be anticipated that there would be a CATV office setup, service equipment, and a new payroll added to the Porterville scene.

SENATOR WAY VICE CHAIRMAN AG. COMMITTEE

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 28 — Senator Howard Way, of Tulare county, has been named chairman of the California Senate Standing committee on agriculaure.

Senator Way is also serving on the social welfare, water resources, fish and game, and labor standing committees.

Eighty per cent of the families in the United States own automobiles.

Taxable sales of $7.6 billion in California during July, August and September were up more than nine per cent over the same 1963 period.

From Daybell Nursery By John

After reading the budget figures for the state and federal government we can only urge you to hurry down and spend your money before it's all taken away. If we could export money this country would vanish overnight. The only thing that flies so fast is planting time and we wish to call this to your attention too.

For instance, it is now planting time for rhubarb, artichoke, berries, grapes, and fruit trees. One of these days you will come rushing in and they will be all gone. Most husbands will consider this a lucky thing - most wives will not share this opinion. However even husbands will agree that shade is a good thing. It should be purchased now for later use while supply is complete.

Our shade is sold in either a tin package or unwrapped. It comes tall and narrow or low and wide. It can sometimes be purchased with flower or fruit and comes in many colors. We have green shade, red leafed shade, yellow edged shade, and even olive green or gray shade. Some shade comes equipped with automatic, magic eye, control causing it to lower to the ground during fall which allows the winter sun to get through. Optional varieties do not have this equipment.

We hope that before spring rushes past you'll come browse among the many things, both old and new, that abound at number five five North "E" Street. We're always glad to see you.
